

Set 900 Stereo Listening System

The Set 900 is both a mobile sound booster and an infra-red stereo listening system.

At home, the Set 900 can be directly connected to the TV, hi-fi system or radio and allows listeners to enjoy cordless enhanced sound with personal hearing settings.

Two switchable microphones on the receiver make it possible to boost the voice of the person you are talking to or improve awareness of your surroundings when watching TV.

FEATURES

- Easy to connect and use.
- Three selectable hearing settings on the transmitter, optimising speech intelligibility by switchable compression and treble emphasis.
- Individually adjustable treble emphasis.
- Cordless mobility up to 12 m inside a room.
- Two switchable microphones on the receiver for boosted hearing and awareness of your surroundings when watching TV, eg: when the telephone rings.
- Balance control and large, ergonomic volume control directly on the receiver.
- Perfect fit, rotatable ear cushions guarantee great wearing comfort.
- Receiver turns on/off automatically.
